

ENFORCING THE SUNDAY LAW.

Dealers are not Allowed to Sell Cigars on the Sabbath.

"Police officers on duty will hereafter see that all shops and stores are closed on Sunday, excepting butcher shops, fruit stores and barber shops which may be open until 9 o'clock A. M. when they must close. Restaurants and places where meals are furnished may remain open all day. Drugs and medicines may also be sold on Sunday. All other stores are however to be kept closed."

The above order is displayed in a conspicuous place in the Police Station and the enforcement of it caused a great deal of comment Sunday. James Steiner, who owns the Elite Ice Cream Parlors, made a decided kick and he says he intends to make a test case and see if the obnoxious law will hold good before a jury. The cause of his wrath is explained in this way: last Saturday he was informed that if he kept his place open on Sunday he must not sell candy or cigars but he could sell ice cream and coffee and doughnuts to his heart's content, but James is not satisfied with this and will sell cigars and candy right along or know the reason why.

Horn's bakery and similar places were also notified to the same effect but whether they obeyed the edict is not known. One candy store on Hotel street closed its doors for the day.

The old Sunday law has not been enforced very strictly for some time and the police claim that the present move can be laid at the door of the Chinese and Japanese who have been totally disregarding Sunday by keeping their shops open all day instead of closing up at a reasonable hour in the morning.

The first people who were notified about the Sunday law were White and Hopkins, who keep the Arlington Billiard Parlors. They were open two Sundays ago to supply their customers with cigars and during the day they were informed that they must close up. They did so but on the following Sunday they opened up again and informed the police to that effect in order to make a test case. They were not molested however and on last Monday they informed Attorney General Smith that they were perfectly willing to close up, provided of course, that all other dealers in cigars and tobacco were not allowed to make sales.

Hereafter when you see a young man on a Saturday night with a mysterious looking package under his arm, you can take it for granted that it contains cigars or cigarettes enough to last him over Sunday.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH.

The Annual Celebration to be Held in This City.

A meeting was recently called by United States Minister Willis to make arrangements for the proper observance of the Fourth of July. It was held on Saturday evening at the Arlington Hotel, and was well attended by American citizens. Order was called by J. B. Atherton, who was afterwards elected chairman. C. B. Ripley was elected secretary. As soon as the two officers were filled the chairman announced that nominations for the usual general committee were in order, and the following gentlemen were selected: P. C. Jones, J. B. Atherton, T. F. Lansing, W. F. Allen, L. C. Ables, G. P. Castle, Dr. Grossman, J. A. McCandless, T. B. Murray, W. P. Boyd, Professor Scott, Louis Kenake, J. A. Kennedy, E. A. Towse, J. S. Martin, Dr. C. B. Wood, E. A. Jones, J. H. Fisher, J. M. Oat, J. W. Jones, J. A. Gilman.

After the committee was selected, P. C. Jones asked to be relieved and agreed to pay $100 towards defraying the expenses of the celebration. J. B. Atherton made the same proposition. Their offers were accepted, and J. N. Wright and H. F. Wichman were appointed in their places.

During the evening suggestions were made for carrying out the celebration, and it appeared to be the sense of the meeting that a programme similar to the one that was carried out last year would answer for the coming Fourth, with the exception of the barbecue. It was suggested that a picnic, to which people could bring their own food, would give better satisfaction. Many other suggestions were made, none of which are binding on the committee. The Committee of Arrangements will divide itself into sub-committees, and a programme will be arranged at an early date.

The committee of 1893 owes about $400. This debt was assumed by the new committee. Before the meeting adjourned a vote of thanks was tendered Minister Willis for issuing the call.

NEWS FROM MAUI.

The Latest Doings of the People of That Island.

MAUI, June 2.—The Maui poet would sing (if he exists) of the dust, dust, dust! that blows, blows, blows, in the spring, tra la. The red powder of Maui roads, combined with the strong winds and intense heat of the dry season, makes the traveling of them a bitter punishment and pleasure-journing a vanity of vanities. A sure test of an ultra-serene soul and abnormally happy disposition is a trip through the by ways and wire fences of Spreckelsville at the present moment. Kahikinui, that wonderful pasture-land of the island, is as dry as tinder; the caterpillars and the drought have destroyed all vegetation, and unless rain comes soon many of the best cattle of Maui will perish, so one of the ranch-owners reports.

During Sunday, the 27th of last month, the sacred celebration of "Corpus Christi" at Wailuku was witnessed by a large throng of people. An early train from Paia pulled eleven or twelve heavily laden cars into Maui's leading burg.

The ceremonies of the occasion took place at the Catholic Mission, and the religious procession visited the church, burying ground and hospital.

During Monday afternoon, the 28th of May, Mrs. H. G. Alexander gave a "high tea" to the ladies of Makawao.

E. Helekunihi, Esq., of Haiku was formally installed as District Magistrate of Wailuku during May 31st. He takes W. H. Daniels' position, whose two years' term of office has recently expired. Judge Helekunihi is one of few Maui lawyers who has favored the annexation movement.

During May 31st five members of the Wailuku police force were dismissed for failing to subscribe to the required oath. It is reported that for the same reason quite a number of other Maui policemen will so lose their present occupation just as soon as suitable men to take their places can be obtained.

A crater party of tourists from California, five ladies and two gentlemen, visited the Palace of the Sun yesterday in the early morning hours. They return to Honolulu today.

During the 1st inst several suits were brought against delinquent taxpayers, in the Makawao Police Court. A certain Kaleihua of Kula in defense stated that this Government had no right to collect taxes, and therefore he had refused to pay them. Judge Copp said he had no ruling whatever to make as to the right of existence of the present Government, but according to law the gentleman must pay.

Inspector General A. T. Atkinson is in Wailuku district on his summer tour.

Tax Assessor C. H. Dickey has recently returned from Hana district. On his way over he passed through the crater, was belated and was compelled to camp for one night and endure the cold of 10,000 feet altitude without blankets. He was entertained at the Kaupo coffee plantation of Mr. Barnett, at Manager Gjerdrum's of Hana, and at Charles Gray's, who is temporarily stopping at Keanae. He entered suit at Hana Court against J. P. Sylva, his late deputy, who was bound over to the jury at Wailuku on the charge of embezzlement.

During Kamehameha Day, June 11th, six native Sunday schools of Maui, extending from Kahakuloa to Kanaio, will hold a convention at Pookela Church, Makawao. They will have a luau, and they expect that an unusually successful gathering will take place.

If the signs of the times are read correctly Makawao District will soon be filled with summer guests (summer girls and summer women, etc.).

The Kalaunui Tennis Club held their first meeting of the present season last Saturday afternoon.

The Makawao Polo Club as yet shows little signs of life, though the school children in the vicinity of the polo grounds are fierce in their enthusiasm for "hockey," or as they call it, "polo."

On Maui there are quite a number of baseball clubs—three in Wailuku, two in Makawao and two in Lahaina. They should form an inter-district league and play a schedule of games.

No shipping news this week—no vessel has entered or departed from the seaport.

Weather warm, with some tiny sprays of moisture along the coast.

FUNERAL OF J. H. LOVEJOY.

The funeral of the late J. H. Lovejoy took place Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock from St. Andrew's Cathedral. There was a large gathering in the Church, many prominent residents being present; officers and members of Mystic Lodge Knights of Pythias, Harmony and Excelsior Lodges I. O. O. F., American Legion of Honor and George W. DeLong Post G. A. R., all of which the deceased was a member, were also present in large numbers. As the remains were carried into the Cathedral Bro. Organist Wray Taylor played a funeral march on the organ. The Rev. Bro. Alex. McKintosh read the burial service and the congregation joined in singing the hymn "Nearer My God to Thee." The pallbearers were: J. N. Eckardt, A. W. Keech, J. A. Magoon, A. E. Murphy, Henry Smith, L. L. La Pierre, W. McCandless and D. P. Lawrence. The remains were interred in Nahuana cemetery.

The Rev. Eric Lewis, who was recently sent out by Mr. Theo. H. Davies to administer to the Anglican community in the Hamakua district, has renounced the English Episcopal Church and joined the Seventh Day Adventists.

SIX RUNS TO TWO.

The Hawaii's Defeat the Crescent's on Saturday Afternoon.

| Games Won. | Games Lost. | Games Played. | Per. 1,000. |
|-------------|-------------|---------------|-------------|
| Kam's... | 4 | 4 | 1,000 |
| Hawaii's... | 2 | 4 | 500 |
| Crescents | 0 | 4 | 000 |

The base ball game on Saturday between the Hawaii's and the Crescents will be remembered for two things—the length of time it took to play it and the entire quiet which prevailed. The absence of the Kamehameha "shooters" may account for the latter, as the youngsters took a day off to be in good trim for next Saturday. A young man named Wood was put in the box for the Crescents in place of the regular pitcher. Wood may not be the greatest pitcher on earth, but he succeeded in unloading curves enough to hold the Hawaii's down to six hits besides striking out five men. He is a humorous looking fellow and has a property smile that would be worth a fortune if he adopted the minstrel stage, as a means of livelihood.

Abia pitched for the Hawaii's. He was batted freely but the men at his back gave him good support. H. Wilder and Pryce caught for the Crescents and Hawaii's. Both had an off day as three passed balls are recorded against them. The game as a whole was uninteresting owing to the many errors made by the players.

The following is the official score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

McNicol had the hard luck to die at the home plate three times. He made a valiant effort to score, but the fates were against him. When are the Crescents to win their first game? The game was one of the slowest of the season, and one that gave the lovers of the sport that tired feeling and nearly put them to sleep.

The absence of the Kamehameha School shooters was a pleasant relief to the spectators. Willis, of the Hawaii's, distinguished himself. He made three runs out of the six.
